FREEDOM of SPEECH

The University of California, Irvine recognizes the rights of individuals to engage in constitutionally protected free speech and public safety.

The UC Irvine Police Department also accepts responsibility to uphold and protect these rights as long as individuals conduct themselves in a reasonable manner.

When persons exercising these freedoms infringe on the rights of others, the activity loses constitutional protection and may in fact result in a violation of law or University policy.

The University, as awarded by the court, has the right to set its own set of codes and regulations governing the time, place, and manner for the exercise of free speech and public assembly.

These codes and regulations of the University of California, Irvine will be enforced by the UC Irvine Police Department, as necessary, and are described inside for your information.

University of California, Irvine Policies and Regulations

SPEECH AND ADVOCACY

The University has a special obligation to protect free inquiry and free expression. On University grounds open to the public generally, all persons may exercise the constitutionally protected rights of free expression, speech, and assembly. Such activities must not, however, interfere with the right of the University to conduct its affairs in an orderly manner and to maintain its property, nor may they interfere with the University's obligation to protect rights of all to teach, study, conduct business and fully exchange ideas. Physical force, the threat of force, or other coercive activities used to subject anyone to a speech of any kind is expressly forbidden.

TIME, PLACE, AND MANNER REGULATIONS

Orderly behavior and the normal conduct of University affairs shall govern time, place, and manner of exercising free speech and advocacy. Regard for the privacy of others shall be observed, and reasonable precautions shall be taken against practices which would make persons on campus involuntary audiences. Activities that are determined to pose a risk to personal safety, university property, or facility security will be rescheduled until such time that adequate and appropriate security can be made available, as determined by UCI Police Department. Refer to UCI Administrative Policies and Procedures Section 905.

AREAS FOR PUBLIC GATHERING

Specific areas and properties available for public meetings and gathering are made available through UCI Student Center and Event Services or appropriate scheduling office on a first-come, first-served basis.

AMPLIFICATION

Amplification may be used only at specified times and is prohibited at all other times and places. Guidelines for amplification and hours of use are available from the UCI Student Center and Event Services, or the appropriate scheduling office.
